EDITORIAL

BETTER WORK LONGER

The Times Virginian has never taken much stock in the THIRTY HOUR WEEK.

Consider these two conflicting FACTS:

WAGES TODAY ARE 2.2 PER CENT HIGHER THAN IN 1929.

WAGES TODAY ARE 21.8 PER CENT LOWER THAN IN 1929.

Strange as it may seem, both of these statements are true, says the United States News.

The explanation is that the average workman gets more per hour now than he got in 1929. BUT HE HAS LESS AT THE END OF THE WEEK in his pay envelope, BECAUSE HE WORKED LESS HOURS.

In 1929 he worked more than 47 hours per week and got an average of $28.50 per week for it.

In 1930 the average pay envelope contained $26.00.

Now, he gets more PER HOUR but the average pay envelope has only $22.28.

Reducing hours seems to get us no where fast. You can't get around the simple fact that labor's buying power depends on how much there is in the pay envelope on Saturday night. Better work 40 hours per week for $28.50, than 30 hours per week for $22.28. That extra 6.22 may mean the difference between prosperity and depression.

THE PRESIDENT'S SON

They're forever harping on the goings on of minister's sons. But what of the antics of Roosevelt's sons?

According to the daily press, Franklin Delano Roosevelt Jr. has chalked up nine traffic violations in recent months. Three of his auto accidents have seen persons hurt. He skipped a $15 bond he had put up for speeding at 60 miles per hour. Mary O'Leary, of Boston, sued him for $35,000 damages for injuries in 1934. Edward Newman was hurt in one of his accidents in Philadelphia. He was sued by Hyman Barlow, of Malden Mass.,

No one will place the blame for this record on the president, of course. Rather, we take the angle of praising the local officials in the towns mentioned, for doing their duty in arresting the young man. We suggest thirty days in jail for the next offense.

BOXING IN STATE PAYS OWN WAY PLUS PROFIT

Richmond, Va., Oct. 16. Backers of the bill that legalized profession al boxing and wrestling in Virginia, passed at the last session of the legislature, are saying "I told you so" these days to the doubters who said that sports would never work in this state.

Starting with nothing but an office in the Capitol building, the boxing and wrestling commission has turned back $6,000 to localities where programs have been promoted paid all expenses and presented a balance to the state.

FARM FACTS

Better collections and a greatly reduced demand for loans, especially those of an emergency nature, demonstrate that the economic sky is brightening, W. I. Myers, the governor of the farm credit administration, believes.

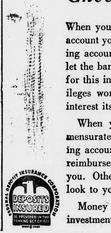
How your MONEY WORKS FOR YOU IN A Checking Account



When you put your money in a savings account you get interest on it. In a checking account you get service for it—and let the bank draw the interest. In return for this interest the bank gives you privileges worth far more to you than the interest itself.

When you maintain a balance commensurate with your use of your checking account privileges, the bank will be reimbursed for the expense of serving you. Otherwise, the bank may properly look to you to meet this expense.

Money in a checking account is an investment that pays you real dividends.

Hectic Days Sleepless Nights

IF YOU are nervous today, you probably will not sleep well tonight. If you don't sleep well tonight, you will probably be nervous tomorrow.

Don't allow yourself to become nervous. Take Dr. Miles Nervine. It will relax your tense nerves and let you get a good night's sleep.

Irritability, Restlessness, Sleeplessness, often lead to Nervous Headache, Nervous Indigestion, Hysteria—sometimes to a nervous breakdown and organic trouble.

Some of the people, whose letters are printed below, were as nervous as you are—possibly more so—yet they have found relief.

Three years ago I was so nervous I could not bear to go out in company and could not sleep nights. A friend recommended Dr. Miles Nervine. I now sleep like a top, thoroughly and sleep every night. Miss Hattie Curtis, New Market, N. H.

Resolutions

FOR MISS DEANE JOHNS

The following resolution is copied from Paris, Texas, where the late Miss Deane Johns taught for a number of years:

"The Lotus Club, of Paris, has suffered a deep loss in the death of Anna Deane Johns,

"Miss Johns, who for more than half a century has been a distinguished member of the teacher's profession, was the former director of the Lotus Club, preparing the literary programs which included some of the best of the world's literature. It was under her direction that the Lotus Club's year book was awarded, on several occasions, the prize offered by the Texas Federation of Woman's Clubs for the most cultured and educational programs. A woman of broad culture, education, high ideals and deep understanding, she was eminently fitted to instruct adults.

To her sorrowing family, the Lotus Club extends deep sympathy in this bereavement.

FOR W. M. HANCOCK

Appomattox, Va.
October 11, 1935

Whereas, an all wise and beneficient providence, has removed from our temporal fellowship to the fellowship that it eternal, our beloved brother, Walter Martin Hancock, and;

Whereas, by his removal, our lodge has sustained the loss of one of its best informed, most capable and most loyal members, and;

Whereas, his diligence, though it came only a full and useful life, leaves a vacancy in our hearts and ranks;

Therefore, be it resolved:

1. That we humbly submit to the will of God in this and in all things, and pray that, like him, we may so live that when the summons comes to us to quit these transitory scenes, we shall have our lamps trimmed and burning, and shall have the "well done" of our Master.

2. That we extend to his bereaved family our sincere and affectionate regards and sympathy, and assure them that for our brother's sake we shall always hold them in affectionate regard and esteem.

3. That we do hereby call upon all our fellow Masons to join us in a bedewed adherence to the sublime tenets of Free Masonry.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, a copy be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and a copy be sent to the Times Virginian for publication in its columns.

Done by order of Monroe Lodge No. 301, A. F. & A. M at a stated Communication, Oct. 11, 1935.

FOR W. M. HANCOCK

Whereas, our Heavenly Father hath in His all wise providence called from our fellowship to the fellowship above our beloved brother and deacon, Walter Martin Hancock, and

Whereas, our board and our church have lost one of its most useful, loyal and dependable members, and;

Whereas, the church and the community has seemingly sustained an almost irreparable loss,

Therefore be it resolved:

1. That we do hereby extend to his bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy, and assure them of our undivided Christian love, loyalty and prayers, and;

2. That we do hereby commend his example of faith, piety, guilelessness, fortitude, dependability and generosity, and we accept his going as a challenge to close up in the ranks and be ready for any service to which God may call us, and;

3. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved family, a copy sent to the Times Virginian for publication, and a copy be spread upon the permanent records of our church.

Most Poisonous Plants Are Avoided by Animals

As a general rule live stock will not eat poisonous plants unless they are forced to do so because of the scarcity of other feed, or because the other feed is less nutritious, says Cecil Elder of the Missouri College of Agriculture. It may be that the other feed is less palatable or in some way fails to satisfy the animal's appetite and requirements.

In many cases overgrazing of pastures has caused animals to eat plants which they otherwise would leave alone. Fortunately most poisonous plants are unpalatable, so that as a general rule animals do not readily eat them in sufficient quantities to be seriously injured.

There is considerable variation in different plants as to the poisonous parts and the location of the poisonous principle. It may, in some cases, be confined to the roots; in other cases to the leaves, buds, stems, or seed pods. There are changes in the toxicity of certain plants during growth and drying—some plants being most dangerous, in the early growth stages ,while other plants lose their poisonous properties during drying or curing.

Russians Equip Plant for New Type Tractors

Moscow.—Five years ago the first Soviet made tractor left the conveyor of the Stalingrad tractor plant. Eleven months later a tractor plant with a capacity of 50,000 machines a year had been built in a country where the sickle, the wooden plow, and the flail represented the age old "equipment" of agriculture.

The tractor plant was the first plant to apply the American system of mass production. In the course of five years the plant has produced about 170,000 tractors. The cost of production has been greatly reduced. The cost of a tractor has dropped twice since the first year of work.

In addition to wheel tractors of 17 to 20 horse power, the plant will short ly start production of caterpillar tractors of a special design.

Farmer Rids His House of Three Swarms of Bees

Toledo, Ohio.—Otey Sowurk, who said he was just as afraid of bees as Mrs. Edna Bond, whose farm he worthheld his breath "for eleven minutes" and resorted to creosote to rid the Bond house of bees. Not one, but three swarms, found their way inside on successive days. Four beekeepers said they'd have to tear off the side of the house. Then Otey took a deep breath and went to work, carrying dead bees out by the bucketful.
